Hi Ken,

Even though your office doesn't specifically address pesticides, I thought you would want to see this article that many of us worked on to counter intense political pressure regarding the determination that the world's most widely used pesticide is a carcinogen.

"Commentaries: Differences in the carcinogenic evaluation of glyphosate between the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) and the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA)" (3 Mar 2016)
(Full text access via the link below.)

It is extremely difficult these days for government agencies to tell a scientific truth that is unpalatable to industry or other agencies. But it is what separates public servants from those who would enable the status quo to supersede the public good.

Have a good weekend.
Kathy
